Mailbox Care Instructions

Thank you for purchasing your Whitehall Mailbox. Your mailbox has been completed with a highly durable, weather tested powder coat finish. It is expected that mailboxes following these finish care instructions should achieve extended beauty of the finish. Keep in mind that in high salt air environments such as Florida and Coastal areas, outdoor products such as mailboxes require regular rinsing using fresh water to wash away salt residue that may speed up the breakdown of the coatings. Many consumers have found that they achieve extended beauty of the finish by applying a coating of common car wax over the mailbox, mailbox post and components. Some gradual fading would be expected over a 5 year period especially in higher UV environments such as the Southern United States and Hawaii. Any outdoor coated products will at some point require repainting including mailboxes as part of normal maintenance.
